Workshop Goal: the California Department of Water Resources and the Bureau of Reclamation both require Water Management Plans from water agencies meeting specific criteria. DWR and Reclamation have also been actively changing and updating their WMP regulations.

The Workshop will include presentations on the regulations, examples of successful WMPs, and tools that water agencies can use to develop WMPs in a cost effective manner.

USCID will partner with DWR and Reclamation to develop the framework for the Workshop. Water agencies in the process of developing plans or now having to develop new plans are encouraged to attend. The content will be aimed at managers, engineers, and consultants who are actively engaged in the development of WMPs.
